

I will laugh without that care

Music of celebration and fellowship from Renaissance England

The Cantabile Renaissance Band will play music of Renaissance England, including country dances, madrigals, carols and fantasias.

Members

- Laura Conrad: Serpent, recorders, alto voice
- Anne Kazlauskas: Mezzo soprano voice
- Ishmael Stefanov: Five-stringed fiddle, recorders, tenor voice

When and Where

2:00-3:00 pm, Thursday, December 17, 2009

Rabb Lecture Hall, Boston Public Library

700 Boylston St., Boston, MA

Near the Copley Square stop on any branch of the Green Line, at the corner of Dartmouth and Boylston

For More Information

Call Laura Conrad at (617) 661-8097, or email lconrad@laymusic.org.

This concert is part of the “Never too Late” series at the Boston Public library.

Program

Dancing and drinking

- We be three poor mariners Ravenscroft
- Juice of Barley Purcell
- Mister Isaac's Maggot
- Changeons Propos Sermisy
- Quand je Bois Heurteur
- Strike it up Tabor Weelkes
- Come, Sirrah Jack, ho Weelkes
- Ricercada Primera Ortiz

Praying

- The truth from above
- Susanna Fair Byrd
- Judith and Holofernes Wise
- Tomorrow shall be my dancing day
- Greensleeves
- Ricercada Segunda Ortiz

Singing together

- Sweet Nymph, come to thy Lover Morley
- Miraculous Love's Wounding Morley
- Cruel, you pull away too soon Morley
- La Girandola Morley
- Thou that art so cruel Morley
- La Sampogna Morley
- I should for grief and anguish Morley
- La Sirena Morley
- Arise, get up my Dear Morley
- La Caccia Morley
- Love learns by laughing Morley