

Bassus

Musical staff for Bassus, measures 1-6. The staff is in bass clef with a common time signature. The melody begins with a whole rest, followed by a series of eighth and quarter notes.

Ye that do live in plea-sures plen - ty, Ye that do live in

7

Musical staff for Bassus, measures 7-13. The melody continues with eighth and quarter notes, ending with a quarter rest.

plea-sures plenty, in plenty, And dwell in music's sweetest airs, And dwell in 14

Musical staff for Bassus, measures 14-23. The melody continues with eighth and quarter notes, ending with a quarter rest.

music's sweetest airs, in sweetest airs; Whose eyes are quick, whose 24

Musical staff for Bassus, measures 24-36. The melody continues with eighth and quarter notes, ending with a quarter rest.

ears are dain - ty, Not clogged with earth, Not clogged with 37

Musical staff for Bassus, measures 37-46. The melody continues with eighth and quarter notes, ending with a quarter rest.

earth, with earth or world - ly cares; Come sing this song, made in Amphi on's

47

Musical staff for Bassus, measures 47-58. The melody continues with eighth and quarter notes, ending with a quarter rest.

praise, Who now is dead, Who now is dead; yet you his 59

Musical staff for Bassus, measures 59-64. The melody continues with eighth and quarter notes, ending with a quarter rest.

fame can raise. Call him again, let him not die, But live in music's sweet-est breath;

65

Musical staff for Bassus, measures 65-70. The melody continues with eighth and quarter notes, ending with a quarter rest.

Place him in fair-est me-mo-ry, And let him tri-umph o - ver death, And let him tri -

71

Musical staff for Bassus, measures 71-80. The melody continues with eighth and quarter notes, ending with a quarter rest.

- umph o-ver death. O sweet - ly sing! his liv-ing wish attend ye: These were his words, "The mirth of Heav'n God send ye, God send ye."

81

Musical staff for Bassus, measures 81-86. The melody continues with eighth and quarter notes, ending with a quarter rest.